

4-26-1993

Vol. 4, No. 14 (April 26, 1993)

Follow this and additional works at: <http://www.repository.law.indiana.edu/ila>

Recommended Citation

"Vol. 4, No. 14 (April 26, 1993)" (1993). Indiana Law Annotated. Paper 466.
<http://www.repository.law.indiana.edu/ila/466>

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the Law School Publications at Digital Repository @ Maurer Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Indiana Law Annotated by an authorized administrator of Digital Repository @ Maurer Law. For more information, please contact wattn@indiana.edu.

INDIANA LAW ANNOTATED

Vol.4, No.14

April 26, 1992

SCHOOL TO GO SMOKE FREE MAY 25

The Law School will become one of the many buildings on campus to go entirely smoke-free on May 25 at the start of the first summer session. Last semester, the issue of a smoke-free building was discussed in meetings with faculty, staff, and students. In addition, the administration considered the report of the University's Smoking Policy Committee, issued last week, which recommended that the entire campus go smoke free on July 1, 1993, and the EPA's report on Respiratory Health Effects of Passive Smoking, issued in December.

Benches and ashtrays will be installed in the covered areas on the patio off the first floor, and in the covered area outside the student lounge within the next few weeks.

FACULTY SUFFER 77-24 LOSS IN B-BALL DEBACLE

The faculty suffered a 77-24 loss to the students in this year's faculty-student basketball challenge. Upsetting oddsmakers, the student margin of victory exceeded 40 points for the first time in law school memory. The faculty suffered from a lack of Heidt, as well as having no real Stake in the game. Students readily admitted the use of ringers. Highlights of the game included John Kefner's missed slam, and subsequent technical for hanging on the rim. Students congratulated Dean Aman on scoring once despite hitting the floor three times. The biggest controversy of the game centered around Mike Barron's decision to play on behalf of the students. Faculty consoled themselves, however, by noting that even if all of Barron's 3 pointers had been added to their score, they still would have lost. Look for Professor Ivan Renko in contracts next fall.

YASMINE RASSAM NAMED MCARTHUR FELLOW

Congratulations to Yasmine Rassam (2L), who has been named a McArthur Fellow for 1993-1994. She will attend a seminar and working group next year at the Center for Global Change and World Peace at I.U. The fellowship will support a research proposal that will allow her to continue work on an interest that began when she was a Peace Corps volunteer in Mauritania. Ms. Rassam will explore how international legal mechanisms define work, and how those definitions affect working women's access to resources.

BOSHKOFF "HUMOR AWARDS" OFF THIS YEAR: SUBSTITUTE SUBMITTED

Ordinarily, to break that pre-exam tension, the last issue of the ILA would feature the winners of the Boshkoff Contracts Humor Awards. Since there are no Boshkoff Contracts Humor Awards this year, Michael Sanchez has submitted instead the following exam tips for those of you who have completely given up hope. Thanks, Michael!

Top ten fun things to do in a final that does not matter (because you couldn't possibly learn the material given that you are starting today)

1. From the moment the exam begins, hum the theme to Jeopardy. Ignore the professor's requests for you to stop. When they finally get you to leave one way or another, begin whistling the theme to the Bridge on the River Kwai.
2. Walk in, get the exam, sit down. About five minutes into it, loudly say to the professor, "I don't understand ANY of this. I've been to every lecture all semester long! What's the deal? And who the hell are you? Where's the regular guy?"

3. Talk the entire way through the exam. Read questions aloud, debate your answers with yourself out loud. If asked to stop, yell out, "I'm SOOO sure you can hear me thinking." Then start talking about what a jerk the professor is.
4. Bring pets.
5. As soon as the professor hands you the exam, eat it.
6. Walk into the exam with an entourage. Claim you are going to be taping your next video during the exam. Try to get the professor to let them stay. Be persuasive. Tell the professor to expect a percentage of the profits if they are allowed to stay.
7. Try to get people in the room to do the wave.
8. Bring some large, cumbersome, ugly idol. Put it right next to you. Pray to it often. Consider a small sacrifice.
9. Bring a musical instrument with you; play various tunes. If you are asked to stop, say "it helps me think." Bring a copy of the Academic Regulations with you, challenging the professor to find the section on musical instruments during finals. Don't forget to use the phrase "Told you so."
10. On the blue book, find a new, interesting way to refuse to answer every question. For example: I refuse to answer this question on the grounds that it conflicts with my religious beliefs. Be creative.

ABA APPELLATE ADVOCACY TEAM NAMED

Congratulations to the 1993-1994 members of the American Bar Association Appellate Advocacy Team --- Julie Schlegal, Keeto Sabharwal, Amanda Owens and Margaret Allen.

NEWS FROM THE FACULTY

Doug Boshkoff will participate in a panel discussion "Current Issues in Chapter 13" at the Federal Judicial Center's Annual Workshop for Bankruptcy Judges at Denver on April 27. The other panelists are Bankruptcy Judges Keith M. Lundin and Margaret Dee McGarity.

Craig Bradley published "The Emerging International Consensus as to Criminal Procedure Rules," 14 Michigan J. of International Law 171 (1993). Kevin Brown will be appearing at a conference on Saturday, April 24 at the University of Illinois--College of Law. The title of the Conference is "Community Empowerment and Economic Development". He will be delivering a paper entitled "A Reexamination of School Choice in the Post Desegregation Era." Dan Conkle published "Harm, Morality, and Feminist Religion: Canada's New--But not So New--Approach to Obscenity," at 10 Constitutional Commentary 105 (1993). On April 22, Rob Fischman participated in a Bloomington Earth Day panel on the Endangered Species Act sponsored by the Student Environmental Action Coalition. The Supreme Court granted cert yesterday in Tennessee v. Middlebrooks, a death-penalty case for which Joe Hoffmann helped write the cert petition. He will be helping write the state's brief this summer.

NEWS FROM STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

News From The Sport and Entertainment Law Society:

The University of Wisconsin School of Law and Sportseminar, Inc. are co-sponsoring the Sports Law Institute. The program is three days of educational sessions, panels, and networking, all designed to train attorneys in representing athletes competently and ethically. The program, will be held June 17-19 at the Drake Hotel in Chicago. Rooms are $125.00 Per night, and the conference rate is $300 for students. For registration forms, contact Ozie Davis.

Protective Order Project Seeks Summer Volunteers

The Protective Order Project seeks summer volunteers to work with battered women seeking protective orders. If you are interested, put a note in Dawnya Taylor (3L) box; training will be the week of May 17.

ELS Officers Announced

The officers of the Environmental Law Society for the 1993-1994 academic year are as follows: Dave Lazerwitz, President; Steve Wade, Vice Pres.; Dave Pantos, Secretary; Laurel Seigel, Treasurer; Melina Maniatis, Research Clinic Dir.; Jeff Goldenberg - Temporary Dir.

CAREER SERVICES INFORMATION

3'Ls: Sign Up for Job Search Help

Reminder to all 3L's: If you are continuing with your job search post-graduation, please don't forget to sign-up for the alumni services available from Career Services (Alumni Job Bulletin, Alumni Job Line & Reciprocity). We also have LEXIS passes allowing you access to the LEXIS "Career Library" during the summer months.

1Ls and 2Ls: What Is Your Summer Address

1L's and 2L's: Before you leave for the summer, stop by the Career Services Office and submit a Summer Address Form so we can send you the advance materials regarding fall On-Campus Interviews over the summer. Only students completing the Summer Address Form will receive this mailing.

Master Job Listings Notebook On Reserve

A final reminder that the Master Job Listings notebook is on reserve at the Law Library main desk for your use during the evening and weekend hours. All job listings (except for those arriving in a bulletin/newsletter format) are placed in this notebook for your reference.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Thank You Andrew Mueller!!! Who Will Assure that Future Generations Receive Their ILAs??

Andrew Mueller is the unsung hero of your weekly newsletter. Out of the goodness of his heart, he has faithfully distributed the newsletter every Monday morning to each of you. Thanks for all of your work over the past year.

But Mr. Mueller is graduating, and I need a volunteer to take over the job for next year. Is anyone interested? See Lauren Robel, Rm. 279.

In Indy This Summer? Want To Do Good?

Community Organizations Legal Assistance Program provides free legal assistance to community groups serving low-income people. COLAP volunteer attorneys set up corporations, answer tax problems, and in one case are helping tenants of a public housing project buy their buildings. COLAP was founded by one of our alums, Jeff Pankratz, and desperately needs volunteer law student help this summer. Part time---even very part time---is useful. If you will be in Indy this summer and are interested, contact Lauren Robel, Rm. 279.

Ushers for Graduation

A few ushers are still needed from the first and second year classes to assist at our Graduation Ceremonies on Saturday, May 8, from noon to 5:30 or from 2:30 to 5:30. If available and willing to help, please see Dale in room 24.